Editorial

Greetings to property buyers and sellers, landlords and tenants!

This is our 12th edition of the 'Real Deals' catalogue, it's a packed 12 paged full color display magazine with great "Real" bargains, if you need choice before you decide where to put your money, this edition is for you, take time to peruse through.

Information is key in real estate transactions

Real Deals catalogue is produced and circulated for the convenience of buyers and sellers as they scout for information about various properties and prices. The property market is a complex and unstructured market because of the nature of its products, real estate is immovable and as such cant be taken to a central place for display for buyers, buyers have to depend on information to navigate the market, property is also heterogeneous(each piece is unique) and not easy to compare and determine the value or price, as such, it poses challenges especially to new entrants who need reliable information before deciding on their investment option or how much to sell their property.

Due to lack of readily available authentic or reliable information about the market, unexperienced players are quite vulnerable, whether buyers or sellers. Buyers may end up paying more than they should and sellers may sell at prices below market price because they are uninformed or mislead.

This circulation is very useful for information as it has quite a variety of property stock in different categories with prices which are as close as possible to the actual market price because all our listed stock gets subjected to our internal price assessment processes.

Land banking is a great investment option

Property remains a unique force in investment choices, while land, especially residential land offers some of the highest investment returns, one obvious example is the appreciation of residential plots in the past 10years with values quadrupling in certain areas, the trend is repeating itself in the outlying areas of the city like Mungule, Chongwe, Shimabala etc.

Yes, Property investment always carries an element of risk, but with the same risk comes a reward of good returns as long as it is well managed or mitigated.

Our CEO, Dr. Kiwempindi invests hours (Hot FM radio every Tuesday at 18:30hrs) divulging very useful information about our real estate market and property investment in general.

He has particularly taken it upon himself to explain and encourage property buyers to take interest in owning traditional land whose pricing is usually quite affordable before title is granted and in certain cases it is given for free. He has presented in detail on the processes involved in converting land from customary to statutory land with reasons and examples of the benefits of taking an interest not only in acquiring customary land but also converting it to titled land.

As we witness the outward surging of the periphery of our cities because of the swelling population, there's no better time to invest in land than now, let's not wait to buy land, lets buy land and wait.

COMMERCIAL PROPERTY

Realize the potential from this very well planned and neatly built incomplete lodge in Foxdale on title. Initially planned to be a boutique hotel, it has 24 guests rooms being part of the incomplete structure. Development was planned to have three floors on completion. The location is very prime only 300 meters from the tarmac near Little Panda school and sits on a generous 1.5 acres land. The landscape is equally well planned with sufficient space for parking and further developments. This property offers immense possibilities for investment opportunities.

HORIZON GREEN VILLAGE

The Green Village project is structured to be affordable to the average working-class Zambian both in the formal and informal sector. The pricing structure and the construction approach in Green Village is tailored to accommodate phased development. As such you can phase your payment beginning with the slab, super structure, roofing and finally the finishing touches.

Construction within the village

The site is up and running for development and a lot of our clients have started their Construction

Road Network

Accessibility within the Green Village Project has been made easier with a well connected road network. Clients are able to identify their plots as roads have been named.
